One	503	do.

These LANDS are ſituated in populous and rapidly increaſing Counties—and have been located, actually ſurveyed, and choſen from the beſt Land in that Country.

The Title is directly from the Governor of that State and accompanied by Certificates from Sworn Magiſtrates and Perſons of the firſt Reſpectability.—The Climate of theſe Counties is mild and temperate in Summer and Winter—and agrees perfectly with the Conſtitution of Perſons, who emigrate thither in great Numbers from the Eaſtern States.

The Lands are ſituated near and upon navigable and eaſtable Rivers, by Means of which the Produce of the Country, conſiſting of Grain, Cotton, Tobacco, &c. &c. may be tranſported down the Ohio, and Miſſiſippi.

They will be Sold on the following Terms.

All the Lands except thoſe in Harriſon County, for One Dollar per Acre, and thoſe in Harriſon, for Two Dollars per Acre. Ten per Cent. to be paid down, or within Twelve Months with Intereſt, to be ſecured to the Satisfaction of the Owner, or his Attorney—and the Reſidue payable in eight Years, without Intereſt, to be ſecured by the Note or Bond of the Purchaſer, with ſufficient Security.—No Patent will be divided—It muſt be obvious that no Lands have yet been offered for Sale, upon Terms ſo advantageous, whether conſidered in Relation to the Quality of the Soil—the Proximity to the contemplated Seat of Government, or the indiſputable Nature of the Title.

Thoſe Farmers, therefore, and others who are deſirous of forming Companies, and making Proviſion for their Families, at a moderate Expence, may have an Opportunity of doing it in this Inſtance, on advantageous Terms.

The above Lands are all under General Warranties from particular Perſons, beſides the Patents from the State.

For Particulars, inquire of JOHN LOWELL, jun. Attorney to the Proprietor, at his Office.

Court ſtreet, Boſton, May 27 1796

Another Inſurrection at Paris.

FRANCE.

COUNCIL OF 500—20th MAY.

A MESSAGE from the EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY, was announced, and read as follows:—

"Citizens Legiſlators,

A HORRIBLE conſpiracy was intended to be executed to morrow, at day-break——Its object was, to overturn the French Conſtitution—to murder the Legiſlative Body—all the members of the government—the officers compoſing the ſtaff of the army of the Interior, and the conſtituted authorities at Paris. The great Commune was to be delivered up to a general pillage, and to the moſt horrid maſſacre.

"The Executive Directory, informed of the place where the Chiefs of this terrible conſpiracy were aſſembled, and where they held their Committee of Revolt, gave orders for their apprehenſion. Several of them have been taken up, and it is with pain we apprize you, that among them was found one of our colleagues, Citizen DROUET, taken in the very act of conſpiracy.

"The Executive Directory calls upon you, Citizens Legiſlators, to have the goodneſs to point out the plan of conduct, it ought to follow, on this occaſion. If you judge, that the Executive Directory ought to put ſeals on Drouet's papers, it prays you to declare your intention on that point. (Signed)

"CARNOT, Preſident."

The Council aſſented to the mandates, which put ſeals on the papers of Drouet.

ANOTHER MESSAGE,

From the Directory was read, as follows:—

"Citizens Repreſentatives,

"It cannot be diſſembled that the Commune of Paris is the reſort of all the immoral beings of the Republic.—A ſwarm of diſmiſſed functionaries, and of diſbanded ſoldiers, flock to it, and the laws are inſufficient to reach them. The Directory demands of the Legiſlative Body a law, enacting that every ex-conventional, every diſmiſſed functionary, every ſoldier not employed, every perſon convicted of emigration, and every individual not born in France, unleſs he be attached to the Diplomatic Body, ſhall be obliged to quit Paris in three days, and to withdraw himſelf ten leagues from thence, on penalty of tranſportation. The accuſed to be tried according to the form preſcribed by the law of 27 Germinal."

In conſequence of this Meſſage, the Council decreed, that all former members of the Convention not re elected, all public officers diſmiſſed ſince 19th Thermidor, [the fall of Robeſpierre] all diſbanded officers and ſoldiers, all who had taken proteſtation of the amneſty, and all foreigners not reſided in France prior to 1789, excepting thoſe attached to foreign Reſidents and Miniſters, and all emigrants, ſhould be ordered to quit Paris, and ten leagues of its vicinity, within three days, on pain of death. [This order includes all the American merchants, at Paris.] In the diſcuſſion it was moved, that all old members of the Conſtituent and Legiſlative Aſſemblies ſhould be added to the proſcribed, but was generally condemned and negatived.

A warm diſcuſſion took place on the expulſion of the Paris Ex-Conventionaliſts.—Their cauſe was advocated by Leharde, Tallien, Dubois Crance, Guyonard, Talbot, and others, but they could not prevail.

COUNCIL OF ELDERS, MAY 20.

The Council adopted the meaſures againſt the inſurgents adopted by the Council of Five Hundred.

LEGENDRE inſinuated that the conſpiracy was the work of the Royaliſts. While ſome of the Members replied by a ſmile of pity, others were enraged at ſeeing him thus palliate the crimes of the Anarchiſts.

PARIS, MAY 21.

The object of the conſpirators was, the overthrow of our preſent Conſtitution, and the eſtabliſhment of the anarchical code of 1793; to which the ſyſtem of terror would have ſucceeded. The Convention was to be recreated, and the non-elected deputies were to take the place of the one-third laſt elected—who with the Executive Directory, ſeveral of the Miniſters and Generals of the armed forces, were to have been arreſted and murdered. Ten men were, for this purpoſe, to have proceeded to each of their houſes; a part of the artillery had been won over to the inſurgents, who had at their command 30 pieces of cannon. A general pillage was to enſue, in hopes, by this mean, to gain over all the military.

The plot was diſcovered to the Directory by ſome of the conſcience ſtruck Conſpirators; orders were immediately given to ſurround the houſe of DROUET, who was found in the midſt of ſixty conſpirators.—He was a profeſſed enemy to the preſent Conſtitution, and had been heard to declare, he would revenge the death of Romme, Soubrony, and others of the laſt of Robeſpierian faction. Near forty of the conſpirators have been apprehended, among them are Babeuf, Editor of a paper, Laignelet, ex conventionaliſt, Rogers, do. and companion of the younger Robeſpierre at Toulon Charles, ditto, formerly detained at Hamburgh Darthes, the Secretary of Joſeph Lebon; Germain, Commiſſioner of the Directory at Verſailles; Roſſignol, formerly General in La Vendee; and Antonelle, a writer in the Freeman's Journal. Four hundred thouſand livres in ſpecie, had been expended in maturing the plot.

A numerous force has been in arms ſince yeſterday

Another Insurrection at Paris.

FRANCE.

COUNCIL OF 500—10th MAY.

A MESSAGE from the EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY, was announced, and read as follows:—

"Citizens Legislators,

A HORRIBLE conspiracy was intended to be executed to morrow, at day-break.——Its object was, to overturn the French Constitution—to murder the Legislative Body—all the members of the government—the officers composing the staff of the army of the Interior, and the constituted authorities at Paris. The great Commune was to be delivered up to a general pillage, and to the most horrid massacre.

"The Executive Directory, informed of the place where the Chiefs of this terrible conspiracy were assembled, and where they held their Committee of Revolt, gave orders for their apprehension. Several of them have been taken up, and it is with pain we apprise you, that among them was found one of our colleagues, Citizen DROUET, taken in the very act of conspiracy.

"The Executive Directory calls upon you, Citizens Legislators, to have the goodness to point out the plan of conduct, it ought to follow, on this occasion. If you judge, that the Executive Directory ought to put seals on Drouet's papers, it prays you to declare your intention on that point. (Signed)

"CARNOT, President."

The Council assented to the mandates, which put seals on the papers of Drouet.

ANOTHER MESSAGE,

From the Directory was read, as follows:—

"Citizens Representatives,

"It cannot be dissembled that the Commune of Paris is the resort of all the immoral beings of the Republic.—A swarm of dismissed functionaries, and of disbanded soldiers, flock to it, and the laws are insufficient to reach them. The Directory demands of the Legislative Body a law, enacting that every ex-conventionalists, every dismissed functionary, every soldier not employed, every person convicted of emigration, and every individual not born in France, unless he be attached to the Diplomatic Body, shall be obliged to quit Paris in three days, and to withdraw himself ten leagues from thence, on penalty of transportation. The accused to be tried according to the form prescribed by the law of 27 Germinal."

In consequence of this Message, the Council decreed, that all former members of the Convention not re elected, all public officers dismissed since 19th Thermidor, [the fall of Robespierre] all disbanded officers and soldiers, all who had taken protection of the amnesty, and all foreigners not settled in France prior to 1789, excepting those attached to foreign Residents and Ministers, and all emigrants, should be ordered to quit Paris, and ten leagues of its vicinity, within three days, on pain of death. [This order includes all the American merchants, at Paris] In the discussion it was moved, that all old members of the Constituent and Legislative Assemblies should be added to the proscribed, but was generally condemned and negatived.

A warm discussion took place on the expulsion of the Paris Ex-Conventionalists.—Their cause was advocated by Leharde, Tallien, Dubois Crance, Guyonard, Talbot, and others, but they could not prevail.

COUNCIL OF ELDERS, MAY 10.

The Council adopted the measures against the insurgents, adopted by the Council of Five Hundred.

LEGENDRE insinuated that the conspiracy was the work of the Royalists. While some of the Members replied by a smile of pity, others were enraged at seeing him thus palliate the crimes of the Anarchists.

PARIS, MAY 11.

The object of the conspirators was, the overthrow of our present Constitution, and the establishment of the anarchical code of 1793; to which the system of terror would have succeeded. The Convention was to be re-created, and the non-elected deputies were to take the place of the one-third last elected—who with the Executive Directory, several of the Ministers and Generals of the armed forces, were to have been arrested and murdered. Ten men were, for this purpose, to have proceeded to each of their houses; a part of the artillery had been won over to the insurgents, who had at their command 30 pieces of cannon. A general pillage was to ensue, in hopes, by this mean, to gain over all the military.

The plot was discovered to the Directory by some of the conscience smote Conspirators; orders were immediately given to surround the house of DROUET, who was found in the midst of sixty conspirators.—He was a professed enemy to the present Constitution, and had been heard to declare, he would revenge the death of Romme, Soubrany, and others of the tail of Robespierian faction. Near forty of the conspirators have been apprehended, among them are Babosue, Editor of a paper, Laignelet, ex conventionalist, Rocrs, do. and companion of the younger Robespierre at Toulon Charles, ditto, formerly detained at Ham; Darbes, the Secretary of Joseph Lebon; Germain, Commissioner of the Directory at Versailles; Rossignod, formerly General in La Vendee; and Antonnelle, a writer in the Freeman's Journal. Four hundred thousand livres in specie, had been expended in maturing the plot.

A numerous force has been in arms since yesterday morning) and guns are planted, at the different gates, round the two Councils. The Conspirators are abashed, and tranquility reigns. Several of the leaders have fled, among whom is Vadier and Amar; and the converts to the Constitution increase daily.

The Executive are pursuing active measures to bring the guilty to punishment.

Three waggon loads of conspirators have been sent to Pitou.

May 20. Tranquility reigns. Three hundred thousand of the addresses of the Conspirators, announcing the Constitution of 1793. were burnt.

ADDRESS

Of the Executive Directory, to the Citizens of Paris.

22 FLOREAL (MAY 10)

"CITIZENS,

"A terrible plot was to have exploded this night, or to-morrow morning at day-break. A horde of robbers and assassins had formed the plan of assassinating the Legislative Body, all the Members of the Government, the Staff of the army of the interior, and all the Constituted Bodies in Paris. The Proclamation of the conspirators was to be the signal of a general pillage in Paris, as well of the houses, as of the magazines and shops, and the massacre of a great number of Citizens was to take place at the same time.

"But be comforted, good Citizens, the government watches, it knows the ringleaders of the conspirators and their means.

"The simple publicity which the Executive Directory gives to their plans, will without doubt suffice to prevent any movement on their part. But in every case be tranquil, and pursue your ordinary avocations. Abandon the Brigands to themselves; the government has taken certain measures to defeat their plots, and to deliver up them and their partizans to the vengeance of the laws.

(signed) CARNOT, President."

May 15.

The Executive Directory sent to the Council all the papers respecting the conspiracy at which Drouet was at the head. They were 44 in number. In a letter to the Directory, Drouet complains, of the violence done at his house the 30th. The Directory deny the fact, and declare, that in this occurrence, they have religiously respected the House of the Representative. The Council went into Committee of the whole on those papers, but came to no resolution on the subject.

May 18

The Convention of Holland (Batavia) has formally declared war against Great Britain.

DROUET, who has been arrested as the leader in the last Paris insurrection, is the same person who stopped Louis XVI. when on his flight from Paris to Montmedi.

MIDDLEBURG, May 3

The difficulties which some have started respecting the free navigation of the Scheldt have been removed: the treaty of alliance between the two Republics declares, that the navigation of the Scheldt shall be free for the two Republics, but for no other nation.

LONDON, May 13.

The Americans have been in the habit of supplying the French with provisions, &c. ever since the commencement of the war; and, in order to pay for them, a person was placed in London, by mutual agreement of the French and Americans, for the purpose of being drawn upon; and the Convention engaged to remit money in time to this agent, by a circuitous conveyance, to pay the bills drawn by the Americans upon him. Bills of this description, to the enormous amount of 120,000 l. were protested and returned last week, in consequence of which, the man has absconded. It is supposed he is gone to France. It is confidently said, that this week will increase the sum to 200,000 l.

May 16.

The unfortunate "King of France" as Monsieur calls himself, like our James, is tossed about, on the ocean of uncertainty, and can scarce find a place to lay his head. He has been ordered to quit Venice; and has arrived at the head quarters of the Prince of Conde's army, at Reigal; where he has, in a very Kingly tone, told his misfortunes, and the indignity he has received at Verona: The conclusion of his address to the royal army, is a curiosity, considering the circumstances of the poor Monarch:—It is as follows:

"We are now come to rejoin the white standard, near the hero who commands you, hoping that our arrival will afford you a new claim to that generous support you have hitherto received from their Imperial and Britannic Majesties.—We entertain no doubt but our presence, as well as your valour, will accelerate the moment which is to put an end to the misfortunes of France, by showing to our deluded subjects, who are still in arms against us, the wide difference between their present state, under tyrants who oppress them, and that of children who surround a kind father."

A company in the British guards was lately sold for the enormous sum of 8000 guineas.

BRITISH HOUSE of COMMONS, May 12.

QUAKERS.

The house resolved itself on the re-commitment of the bill for the relief of the people called Quakers.

Mr. Serjeant Adair stated to the committee, that in consequence of the objections on a former day against the bill, it was found convenient to make alterations in some of the clauses which had been agreed to in the former committee, and also in the other provisions of the bill. If gentlemen still thought that alterations should be made, it might be done in the other stages, as he wished to press the bill forward, fearing it should be lost by delay from the lateness of the session.

Several resolutions was then made and agreed to.—The house being resumed, the report was ordered for to-morrow.

The Master of the Rolls was aware that something ought to be done in the relief of the people called Quakers; but he did not wish that privilege to be extended to them which his majesty's other subjects did not enjoy. This he was aware the bill did; he, in consequence, hoped that the report might be well considered to-morrow.

Mr. Serjeant Adair and Mr. W. Smith said a few words, shewing that the bill extended no such privilege to Quakers.

Mr. BARBER,

IN my observations on the Protest, Resolves, &c. I promised more of "Better Evidence of Towns' Committees," if wanted. I am now compelled to make a Statement in support of it, by the extraordinary Circular Letter that has privately appeared, as from the Town of Providence, signed by an Officer of the United States, as Moderator of a Meeting, &c. inviting the Towns—and say, they "ought not quietly to be submitted to by the Towns who are its victims." And, "if a stand should be made at this juncture, it may have the happy tendency of producing a Constitution of Civil Government, by which the property and rights of the citizens may hereafter be secured from Legislative Infringement."—To comment on such a declaration is unnecessary; let it suffice, that it is the parliamentary language of those sons of order, that toll'd the great bell at the decapitation of a King.

Although I expect to be charged (as one of the State's Committee was by the Orator) with giving information to the country members, especially the northern county; yet I will take the risk, and the annexed schedule, as taken from the minutes of the Committee, with the calculations then and there made, will shew, that had "the apportionment been grounded on actual estimates," or on them "better evidence of Towns' Committees." The dissentients in the House would not have been satisfied—for the State's Committee in that case, like school boys, must have taken the Report of Towns' Committees', and, if they were able without the assistance of the three dissentients of the Committee, calculated the proportion, and it would have been nearly as stated in the annexed schedule; but the law was their guide, an extract from which is here subjoined:

"It is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, "That Mr. John L. Boss, John Davis, Esq, Mr. John "Dorrance, Noah Mathewson, Esq; Joseph Stanton, jun. "Esq, Elisha R. Potter, Esq, Ichabod Cole, Esq; Thomas "Arnold, Esq, Mr. William Greene, and Isaac Johnston, "Esq, be, & they hereby are appointed a State's Committee, and empowered and directed to go into all the Towns in the State, and call upon the Committees of the several Towns to appear before them, with the estimates by them taken, together with the Accounts given in to them by the Individuals, under oath or affirmation, of their rateable property, and also a list of those persons who shall not deliver to them a List of their Estates agreeably to this Act, and to inform them, the said State's Committee, of the principles on which they, the Town's Committee, have proceeded: And that the said State's Committee, from the Estimate made, together with any other information they can obtain, either from the Towns' Committees or by comparing the Estates in the different Towns, form a general Estimate of all the rateable Property in the State.

"It is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, "That if any Person in any Town in the State shall refuse or neglect to deliver an account of his or her rateable property, of any kind, name, or nature, excepting as aforesaid, to the said Town's Committee, on or before the time which shall be by them appointed for that purpose, in such case, the said State's Committee shall be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to put such valuation upon the property of the person so refusing or neglecting as they shall think proper which shall be taxed two fold by the town, in proportion to the property of the other Citizens as determined by the last valuation, until he or she shall give an estimate of his or her property agreeably to the directions of this act; unless he or she shall be beyond Sea, or absent from the State: Provided however, That no person living in one Town and holding an Estate in another town shall be two folded, unless he or she, or his or her tenant or agent, shall neglect, upon notice given, to attend in such other town, and give an account of his or her rateable Property therein."

The law being their guide, they found other information than this "better evidence," and formed their Report, as in the annexed schedule—and as Providence was the first to clamour, I gave some reasons why they had 235 dols. 63 cents. more added, than their "better evidence" would have given them.—The next in order was North-Providence, when the Orator came forward and vociferously called on the member from Charlestown, to shew why it should not be estimated as high as North-Providence—I can say that the estimate of Town Committees had with us all the weight and respect due to it; but when other information was obtained, the consequence was as follows: From the Towns of Little Compton, Charlestown and Coventry, three of the Committee, out of seven who signed the Report, were Members. On examining the schedule you will find added this "better evidence of Towns' Committees"—On Little Compton, about 34½ per cent. on Charlestown 30 per cent. on Coventry 39½—while on the Town of North Providence the enormous sum of about 27 per cent. is added.—If the Orator meant by his noted Protest, that his Town and North Providence were the only Towns in fact, that gave a true return, and the Committee ought rigidly to have adhered to it, then are they reprehensible. But let us pass on to this extraordinary Circular Letter, where they say, that "notwithstanding the artful policy of the leading advocates of the Estimate, in reducing to a small amount several Towns in the County of Providence," &c.—If it is meant that the three who did not sign the Report, did not advocate an Estimate, it then has some meaning, and is true—but let us compare the Country Towns in that County, and the Towns in the County of Washington, and let the candid judge by the result, of the "arbitrary and capricious apportionments contrary to the Estimates of Towns' Committees."

To this "better evidence of Towns' Committees," on seven Towns who were advocates for an Estimate is added about 26 per cent. while from the seven Towns in the County held up by the Orator only about 15 per cent. is added, and with Providence included only 17½ per cent. and the two members of the Committee from that County did not sign the Report—How they can reconcile it to their constituents I cannot see a loss;—But those that did sign, impartially decided that those Towns had estimated nearer to the true value than the Towns they represented. Having gone so far through my minutes made in the Committee, shall reserve particular calculation on "principles established by facts," for the next Town that Declares the act of the Legislature "Unconstitutional."

CHARLESTON (S. C.) June 25.

The Sloop Friendship, Johnston, which arrived yesterday from the island of Bourbon, has completed her voyage in little more than 7 months. She left our bar about the middle of November; her passage out was 220 days; she lay 24 days in Bourbon, and returned in 84 days—It is probable there is no instance of a voyage, in which so great a distance has been sailed, having been performed in so short a time.

April 25. Fifteen leagues to the westward of the Cape of Good Hope, spoke the ship Eliza, of Boston, from Calcutta, bound to Ostend. She was 3 days out from the Cape; the master informed, that there was but one 74 gun ship lying there, the crew of which was very sickly.

NORFOLK, June 30.

Last Saturday arrived the sloop Nancy, Capt. Cocke, from Charleston, 7 days. In the above came passengers Mr. Wall's Company of Comedians. We understand the Theatre will open early next week.

PITTSBURG, July 2.

Wednesday last sailed from this place, for Fort-Washington, General WAYNE.—It is expected that immediately on his arrival at Greenville, the army will move towards Detroit, every preparation being made for that purpose.

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.

The American Philosophical Society, deeply afflicted by the death of their late worthy President, Dr. David Rittenhouse, did, at a special meeting held on Friday the 28th instant, resolve, that an EULOGIUM, commemorative of his distinguished talents and services, be publicly pronounced before the Society by a member of the same: In pursuance of which, Dr. Benjamin Rush, was appointed for the service at a meeting of the Society held at their Hall on Tuesday last.

The brig Sukey-ah, Capt. Baird, arrived at New-Castle on Thursday last in 7 weeks and 4 days from Belfast: she left that port with 800 passengers; 46 were dragged on board two British frigates a few days ago in the vicinity of 72.

NEW-YORK, July 13.

Capt. Pratt, of the brig Thomas, in 26 days from Martinico, informs, that he left EIGHT 64's, and seven frigates, at that Island, on his departure.

Capt. Pratt informs, that it was reported at Martinique that Admiral RICHERY's squadron had arrived at St. Pierre's (Guadaloupe) consisting of TEN ships of the line, &c.

By Capt. Nicholas, of the schooner William, which arrived here yesterday, in 14 days from St. Bartholomews, we are informed, that the produce of this country is greatly in demand at that place. He left the inhabitants of that island perfectly healthy.

The Republican schooner of 12 guns, Capt. Bacon, which arrived on Thursday evening, is a despatch-boat as supposed, but no intelligence of consequence has transpired from her.

In a French catalogue lately published, is an article, mentioning a "new Dictionary of the words with which the French language has been enriched by the Revolution."

ALBANY, July 4.

Furs and Peltries to the amount of more than Forty Thousand Dollars, have this week been received by a house in this city, from one of the North West Companies.

It has an agreeable appearance, and brightens up the faces of our old Indian traders, to see twenty or thirty waggon loads of fur at a time coming into our city—and augurs favourable, a return of the immensely rich Indian Trade we once participated in.

meeting) and guns are planted, at the different gates, round the two Councils. The Conspirators are abashed, and tranquility reigns. Several of the leaders have fled, among whom is Vadier and Amor; and the converts to the Constitution increase daily.

The Executive are pursuing active measures to bring the guilty to punishment.

Three waggon loads of conspirators have been sent to Pleiss.

MAY 15. Tranquility reigns. Three hundred thousand of the addresses of the Conspirators, announcing the Constitution of 1793, have been burnt.

ADDRESS
Of the Executive Directory, to the Citizens of Paris.
21 FLOREAL (MAY 10)

"CITIZENS,

"A terrible plot was to have exploded this night, or to-morrow morning at day-break. A horde of robbers and assassins had formed the plan of assassinating the Legislative Body, all the Members of the Government, the Staff of the army of the interior, and all the Constituted Bodies in Paris. The Proclamation of the conspirators was to be the signal of a general pillage in Paris, as well of the houses, as of the magazines and shops, and the massacre of a great number of Citizens was to take place at the same time.

"But be comforted, good Citizens, the government watches, it knows the ringleaders of the conspirators and their means.

"The simple publicity which the Executive Directory gives to their plans, will without doubt suffice to prevent any movement on their part. But in every case be tranquil, and pursue your ordinary avocations. Abandon the Brigands to themselves; the government has taken certain measures to defeat their plots, and to deliver up them and their partizans to the vengeance of the laws.

(Signed) CARNOT, President."

May 15.

The Executive Directory sent to the Council all the papers respecting the conspiracy at which Drouet was at the head. They were 44 in number. In a letter to the Directory, Drouet complains, of the violence done at his house the 30th. The Directory deny the fact, and declare, that in this occurrence, they have religiously respected the House of the Representative. The Council went into Committee of the whole on those papers, but came to no resolution on the subject.

May 18.

The Convention of Holland (Batavia) has formally declared war against Great-Britain.

DROUET, who has been arrested as the leader in the last Paris insurrection, is the same person who stopped Louis XVI. when on his flight from Paris to Montmedi.

MIDDLEBURG, May 3.

The difficulties which some time existed respecting the free navigation of the Scheldt have been removed: the treaty of alliance between the two Republics declares, that the navigation of the Scheldt shall be free for the two Republics, but for no other nation.

LONDON, May 13.

The Americans have been in the habit of supplying the French with provisions, &c. ever since the commencement of the war; and, in order to pay for them, a person was placed in London, by mutual agreement of the French and Americans, for the purpose of being drawn upon; and the Convention engaged to remit money in time to this agent, by a circuitous conveyance, to pay the bills drawn by the Americans upon him. Bills of this description, to the enormous amount of 120,000 l. were protested and returned last week, in consequence of which, the man has absconded. It is supposed he is gone to France. It is confidently said, that this week will increase the sum to 200,000 l.

May 16.

The unfortunate "King of France" as Monsieur calls himself, like our James, is tossed about, on the ocean of uncertainty, and can scarce find a place to lay his head. He has been ordered to quit Venice; and has arrived at the head quarters of the Prince of Conde's army, at Reigal; where he has, in a very Kingly tone, told his misfortunes, and the indignity he has received at Verona: The conclusion of his address to the royal army, is a curiosity, considering the circumstances of the poor Monarch:—It is as follows:

"We are now come to rejoin the white standard, near the hero who commands you, hoping that our arrival will afford you a new claim to that generous support you have hitherto received from their Imperial and Brittannic Majesties.—We entertain no doubt but our presence, as well as your valour, will accelerate the moment which is to put an end to the misfortune of France, by showing to our deluded subjects, who are still in arms against us, the wide difference between their present state, under tyrants who oppress them, and that of children who surround a kind father."

A company in the British guards was lately sold for the enormous sum of 8000 guineas.

BRITISH HOUSE of COMMONS, May 12.
QUAKERS.

The house resolved itself on the re-commitment of the bill for the relief of the people called Quakers.

Mr. Serjeant Adair stated to the committee, that in consequence of the objections on a former day against the bill, it was found convenient to make alterations in some of the clauses which had been agreed to in the former committee, and also in the other provisions of the bill. If gentlemen still thought that alterations should be made, it might be done in the other stages, as he wished to press the bill forward, fearing it should be lost by delay from the lateness of the session.

Several resolutions was then made and agreed to.—The house being resumed, the report was ordered for to-morrow.

The Master of the Rolls was aware that something ought to be done in the relief of the people called Quakers; but he did not wish that privilege to be extended to them which his majesty's other subjects did not enjoy. This he was aware the bill did; he, in consequence, hoped that the report might be well considered to-morrow.

Mr. Serjeant Adair and Mr. W. Smith said a few words, shewing that the bill extended no such privilege to Quakers.

Mr. BARBER,

IN my observations on the Protest, Resolves, &c. I promised more of "Better Evidence of Towns' Committees," if wanted. I am now compelled to make a statement in support of it, by the extraordinary Circular Letter that has privately appeared, as from the Town of Providence, signed by an Officer of the United States, as Moderator of a Meeting, &c. inviting the Towns—and say, they "ought not quietly to be submitted to by the Towns who are its victims." And, "if a stand should be made at this juncture, it may have the happy tendency of producing a Constitution of Civil Government, by which the property and rights of the citizens may hereafter be secured from Legislative Infringement."—To comment on such a declaration is unnecessary; let it suffice, that it is the parliamentary language of those sons of order, that toll'd the great bell at the decapitation of a King.

Although I expect to be charged (as one of the State's Committee was by the Orator) with giving information to the country members, especially the northern county; yet I will take the risk, and the annexed schedule, as taken from the minutes of the Committee, with the calculations then and there made, will show, that had "the apportionment been grounded on actual estimates," or on their "better evidence of Towns' Committees." The dissentients in the House would not have been satisfied—for the State's Committee in that case, like school boys, must have taken the Report of Towns' Committees', and, if they were able without the assistance of the three dissentients of the Committee, calculated the proportion, and it would have been nearly as stated in the annexed schedule; but the law was their guide, an extract from which is here subjoined:

"It is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, "That Mr. John L. Boss, John Davis, Esq; Mr. John "Dorrance, Noah Mathewson, Esq; Joseph Stanton, jun. "Esq; Elisha R. Potter, Esq; Ichabod Cole, Esq; Thomas "Allen, Esq; Mr. William Greene, and Isaac Johnson, "Esq; be, & they hereby are, appointed a State's Committee, and empowered and directed to go into all the Towns "in the State, and call upon the Committees of the several "Towns to appear before them, with the estimates by them "taken, together with the Accounts given in to them by "the Individuals, under oath or affirmation, of their "rateable property, and also a list of those persons who "shall not deliver to them a List of their Estates agreeably to this Act, and to inform them, the said State's "Committee, of the principles on which they, the Town's "Committee, have proceeded: And that the said State's "Committee, from the Estimates so made, together with "any other information they can obtain, either from the "Towns' Committee or by comparing the Estates in the "different Towns, form a general Estimate of all the rateable Property in the State.

"It is further enacted by the authority aforesaid, "That if any Person in any Town in the State shall refuse "or neglect to deliver an account of his or her rateable "property, of any kind, name, or nature, excepting "as aforesaid, to the said Town's Committee, on or before the time which shall be by them appointed for "that purpose, in such case, the said State's Committee shall be and they are hereby, authorized and empowered to put such valuation upon the property of the person so refusing or neglecting as they shall think proper "which shall be taxed two fold by the town, in proportion to the property of the other Citizens as determined by the said valuation, until he or she shall give an "estimate of his or her property agreeably to the directions of this act; unless he or she shall be beyond Sea, "or absent from the State: Provided however, That no "person living in one Town and holding an Estate in another town shall be two-folded, unless he or she, or his "or her tenant or agent, shall neglect, upon notice given, to attend in such other town, and give an account "of his or her rateable Property therein."

The law being their guide, they found other information than this "better evidence," and formed their Report, as in the annexed schedule—and as Providence was the first to clamour, I gave some reasons why they had 215 dols. 63 cents. more added, than their "better evidence" would have given them.—The next in order was North-Providence, when the Orator came forward and vociferously called on the member from Charlestown, to show why it should not be estimated as high as North-Providence—I can say that the estimate of Town Committees had with us, all the weight and respect due to it; but when other information was obtained, the consequence was as follows: From the Towns of Little Compton, Charlestown and Coventry, three of the Committee, out of seven who signed the Report, were Members. On examining the schedule you will find added this 'better evidence of Towns' Committees"—On Little Compton, about 34¼ per cent. on Charlestown 30 per cent. on Coventry 39¼—while on the Town of North Providence the enormous sum of about 27 per cent. is added.—If the Orator meant by his noted Protest, that his Town and North Providence were the only Towns in fact, that gave a true return, and the Committee ought rigidly to have adhered to it, then are they reprehensible. But let us pass on to this extraordinary Circular Letter, where they say, that "notwithstanding the artful policy of the leading advocates of the Estimate, in relieving to a small amount several Towns in the County of Providence," &c.—If it is meant that the three who did not sign the Report, did not advocate an Estimate, it then has some meaning, and is true—but let us compare the Country Towns in that County, and the Towns in the County of Washington, and let the candid judge by the result, of the "arbitrary and capricious apportionments contrary to the Estimates of Towns' Committees."

April 25. Fifteen leagues to the westward of the Cape of Good Hope, spoke the ship Eliza, of Boston, from Calcutta, bound to Ostend. She was 3 days out from the Cape; the master informed, that there was but one 74 gun ship lying there, the crew of which was very sickly.

NORFOLK, June 30.

Last Saturday arrived the sloop Nancy, Capt. Cooke, from Charleston, 7 days. In the above came passengers Mr. Weft's Company of Comedians. We understand the Theatre will open early next week.

PITTSBURG, July 2.

Wednesday last sailed from this place, for Fort-Washington, General WAYNE.—It is expected that immediately on his arrival at Greenville, the army will move towards Detroit, every preparation being made for that purpose.

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.

The American Philosophical Society, deeply affected by the death of their late worthy President, Dr. David Rittenhouse, did, at a special meeting held on Friday the 2d instant, resolve, that an EULOGIUM, commemorative of his distinguished talents and services, be publicly pronounced before the Society by a member of the same: In pursuance of which, Dr. Benjamin Rush, was appointed for the service at a meeting of the Society held at their Hall on Tuesday last.

The brig Susannah, Capt. Baird, arrived at New-Castle on Thursday last in 7 weeks and 4 days from Belfast: she left that port with 200 passengers; 46 were dragged on board two British frigates a few days ago in the longitude of 71.

NEW-YORK, July 13.

Capt. Pratt, of the brig Thomas, in 26 days from Martinico, informs, that he left EIGHT 64's, and seven frigates, at that Island, on his departure.

Capt. Pratt informs, that it was reported at Martinique, that Admiral RICHERY's squadron had arrived at St. Pierre's (Guadaloupe) consisting of TEN ships of the line, &c.

By Capt. Nicholas, of the schooner William, which arrived here yesterday, in 14 days from St. Bartholomews, we are informed, that the produce of this country is greatly in demand at that place. He left the inhabitants of that island perfectly healthy.

The Republican schooner of 12 guns, Capt. Biron, which arrived on Thursday evening, is a despatch-boat as supposed, but no intelligence of consequence has transpired from her.

In a French catalogue lately published, is an article, mentioning a "new Dictionary of the words with which the French language has been enriched by the Revolution."

ALBANY, July 4.

Furs and Peltrys to the amount of more than Forty Thousand Dollars, have this week been received by a house in this city, from one of the North-West Companies.

It has an agreeable appearance, and brightens up the faces of our old Indian traders, to see twenty or thirty waggon loads of fur at a time coming into our city—and augurs favourable, a return of the immensely rich Indian Trade we once participated in.

We are informed, that a Treaty is now holding at Buffaloe Creek, between the Proprietors of the Connecticut Western Reserve and certain Tribes of Indians. Gen. Cleveland is at the treaty, and the Hon. Mr. Phelps, is on his way thither.

Yesterday week, there was an uncommon Hail-Storm, at Milton, &c. in Saratoga country.—It did great damage to the gardens, Indian corn, grain and grass.—Many of the hail stone's were as large as hen's eggs, and the day following were to be seen in considerable quantities as big as walnuts.

BOSTON, July 16.

FROM TOBAGO.

Capt. Smith, left thence June 19. A few days previous to his sailing, the militia received orders to hold themselves in readiness to proceed against Guadaloupe.—Markets were good—flour 20 dollars per barrel.

The following resolution was adopted by the House of Representatives of the State of New Hampshire, on the 8th ult.

"Resolved unanimously That the Resolutions of the Legislature of Virginia, respecting alterations in the Federal Constitution which were forwarded to the Governors of the several States, for the consideration of the respective Legislatures, cannot be adopted by this State—that alterations should not be made in the Constitution the alterations should not be made in the Constitution unless some material defect is apparent—that the people are now happy beyond example under the present form of Federal Government; and therefore in their opinion it is inexpedient to make any alterations."

BUNKER's HILL—THE NEW TRAGEDY.

We can with pleasure call the attention of the public, that the celebrated new Tragedy, mentioned in last papers, to be presented the ensuing season, will come from Mr. Powell's New Theatre, now erecting. Mr. Burke, the famous persecuted Irish Patriot, who arrived in this town some months since, is the author, and has engaged it to Mr. Powell.

FROM ST. VINCENTS JUNE 13.

Extract from a Letter.

"It may be interesting to you to know how things go with the French and English. St. Lucia is entirely in possession of the former—they stormed the forts, and succeeded in carrying them. Some negroes, and naturalized French were hanged, and time brought to this place for the same purpose. The Commander in Chief, Sir Ralph Abercrombie, arrived from thence to this place, seven days ago, with part of the forces to reside the windward side of this island from the French and Charibs, who have been in possession a long time past. On the 20th at sunrise, the British commenced the attack with 4300 men; at two in the afternoon they stormed and took the old fort, and three redoubts between it, and the new fort. About three the firing ceased; and a flag of truce from the French came in.—Finally it was agreed to surrender all the possessions on the island to the British, and the French prisoners to receive the honours of war. Those who were natural subjects of Great Britain, and had joined the French, were still be at the discretion of the Commander in Chief—so also those negroes who fled to them. The Charibs, however, in the night, as well as the Piemontese regulars, got into the woods, and a host of rangers and Pioneers are after them. On the 22d, at 3 o'clock, P. M. the prisoners came in, and were conveyed on board the different ships in the harbour. Such a shabby set I never beheld before. They amounted in all to above 600, out of whom only five or six were white men—the officers were negroes and mulattoes. They were commanded by a negro, who had a French commission of Captain, as had also many of the other negroes and mulattoes. They came into town with their side arms, and (omitting the bulk of the prisoners who were the dirtiest and most ragged crew under heaven) appeared decently clad in their uniform."

The English successes in the West Indies, have not been equal to the immense expence of blood and treasure lavished to attain them. In one Island at St. Lucia, we are assured by a correspondent, they lost six hundred men.

No particulars of the late engagement heard off the Bay have transpired.—There are three French frigates on the coast, the Concorde, the Insurgent, and another.

It was reported yesterday, but upon no accountable authority, that the Concorde French frigate had captured the Hussar British frigate. It is not impossible but that the report may be founded on truth.

FROM A LATE LONDON PAPER,

DERBY ASSIZES.

What most particularly engaged the attention of the public, was a charge against a woman of the name of ANN HOON, aged 25, for the murder of her infant child about fourteen months old; the circumstances of this murder were as follows: on Friday last this poor creature, who is the wife of a labouring man, was about to heat her oven, and being short of wood, had broken down a rail or two from the fencing round the plantation of a gentleman in the neighbourhood; some of her neighbours threatened her with a prosecution, and told her she would be transported for it.

This so much alarmed her mind, and the idea of being separated from her child, whom she had always appeared remarkably fond of, so wrought on her imagination, that she formed the horrible design of putting it to death, in order that, by surrendering herself into the hands of justice, she might be executed for the murder, and so be forever reunited in Heaven to that babe whom she had loved more than life. As soon, therefore, as her husband was gone out to his labour, she proceeded to put this diabolical design into execution; she filled a large tub with water, and taking the child in her arms, was about to plunge it into the water, when the babe, smiling in its mother's face, disarmed her for the moment, and she found herself unable to commit the horrid fact. She then lulled the babe to sleep at the breast, and wrapping a cloth round it, plunged it into the tub, and held it under water 'till life became extinct, then took it out of the tub, and laid it on the bed, and taking her hat and cloak locked her street door, and left her key at a neighbour's for her husband when he should return from his labour: She then proceeded to walk eight or nine miles to a magistrate, and requesting admission to him, told him the whole story, concluding with an earnest desire immediately to be executed. She was tried this morning, and many strong instances of insanity for some years past appearing, the Jury found her—Not Guilty.

NEWPORT, July 19.

A Vessel lately sailed from Philadelphia for Algiers, having on Board the Means of fulfilling the Treaty with that Regency. Capt. Obrien went out in it.

It is said, that the City of Charleston lost Property, by the Fire in 1776, to the Amount of 2 525 525l. In 1779, 507,855l. and, by the late Fire 500,000l. their Currency.

In the Debate, in the British House of Commons, on the Dock Tax, it was stated, that the Kingdom contained Two Millions of Dogs. These were said to destroy, annually 52 000 Sheep. And it was computed that their butchering could not cost less than Three Millions Sterling per Annum. Besides all this, canine Madness had become frequent. Thirty three Persons, seized with the Hydrophobia, had been presented to one Hospital, the preceding Year. The Debate adds, that it is very common to see Dog Loads carried to the Fields, by Valets six feet high, to give them an Airing and an Appetite for Dinner!

The Anniversary of American Independence, has, we believe, been more universally celebrated, this Year, than on any former Occasion, almost all the large Towns, and many small Ones, have set it a Day of Mirth and Festivity.

Last Wednesday put into this Port for Want of Provisions, and in great Distress for Want of Hands, (most of her People having sick) the Brig Catharine, of New-York, Jabez Sayer, Master, from Gottenburg—In Lat. 41 44 N. Long 66, spoke the Brig Louisa, Captain Briggs, from Providence bound to Hamburg, out 6 Days, all well.

In Consequence of the Idea suggested in our Paper of the 5th Inst. relative to Mr. OLIVER C BEER's Intention of gratifying his Friends and the Public, in publishing a Narrative of his Sufferings, and other Occurences that transpired during thirteen Months of tedious Captivity among the Natives on the N. W. Coast of this Continent. We are authorised to remark, that his sudden and unexpected Departure for the West Indies has obliged him to defer executing said Intention until his Return—which, in all Probability, will not exceed many Months.

Quite A la mode in dishabille,
Her Snuff her note and fingers fill,
Her hair about her ears.

Her handkerchief and morning gown,
About her shoulders loosly thrown,
With fewer a single pin in;
No stays, no hoops, are seen upon her
(Those double guards of female honor)
And then, ye Gods! her linen.

But when a ball or masquerade,
Calls her from this Domestic shade,
In Public light to shine:
She's dress compleat from head to foot,
(Pins, silk, and lace, can do't)
No Duchess half so fine.

So BEES when wintry frosts reign,
Quite torpid, fish and dirt remain,
Nor care to tempt the skies;
Till warm'd by Phœbus's genial rays,
They buz and wanton in the blaze,
And fly a thousand dies.

A curious Advertisement in the Leyden Gazette:

"It has pleased the Sovereign Dispenser of all Things to take unto himself, last night, my wife, Lady Anne, Countess of Welderen, born at Whyweler: she died at a very advanced age, after a lingering decay, and an illness of three months and an half. I notify this loss, so terrible and painful to me, to my relations and friends, entreating them to spare all letters of condolence.
